Candidates speak out on issues

by DENISE McCUE
Lakeland Newspapers

Concerned citizens of Antioch packed the lobby of the First National Bank to hear candidates speak their minds on the issues in the upcoming April 4 election.

Over 100 people heard candidates for village mayor, trustee and township supervisor speak for five minutes each in a candidate's forum sponsored by the Oakwood Knolls Assn. The order of speaking was determined by their response time to the invitation.

Not all the candidates present were able to speak due to time limitations, but they were able to take part in the question and answer period after the speakers were heard.

The incumbent candidate for mayor, Raymond P. Toft, spoke first. As all the candidates did, he cited his residential history in Antioch, then gave a synopsis on what he had done for the town in his last eight years as mayor.

"We've started the downtown improvement, and that's going just fine," he said. Some of his future goals are to continue downtown improvements, to continue to fight Waste Management and keep a landfill site out of Antioch. He also wants to commission an environmental planner to "evaluate village growth and give direction to the village board."

Toft's opponent for mayor, Robert C. Wilton, strongly supports requiring stricter testing for Antioch police. "We have too many police sitting around in the office or being top brass," he said.

He supports controlled industrial growth, while opposing high density apartment buildings.

"I'm always for open communication between the zoning and planning boards," he asserted. Wilton also promises to lower garbage pick-up rates and to eliminate rusty water. The only candidate to mention the drug issue, he supports drug enforcement and awareness programs in the schools.

Of the trustees running for election, Marilyn Shinflugh was the first to speak. "I am running on the basis of my experience," she said, "not to oppose any particular candidate or issue." She sent out a survey to the residents of Antioch to get their opinion on a number of issues. As a result of that survey, she believes in annexing the land around Antioch. "We have to find a way to keep Antioch Antioch." Shinflugh wants to redevelop downtown to resolve traffic problems. With a strong background in (Continued on Page 8)

Rte. 53 compromise reviewed by NIPC

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

There may be a compromise in the wind on Rte. 53—the 17-mile, six-lane, $300,000 behemoth through the center of Lake County. Proposed as part of the year 2010 transportation study for the Chicago area, it will run from the Cook County line to Grayslake.

Last month the County Board voted to oppose the project. At a March 14 meeting the earlier action was reinforced with more talk.

Much of this was for the benefit of Highway impact

Some 16 wetlands will be directly impacted and 14 others affected if Rte. 53 is built, said Anthony Dean standing at microphone of March 14 County Board meeting and pointing at map. He appealed for strong opposition to the 17-mile, $300 billion, six-lane thoroughfare through central Lake County.

Rte. 53 opponents rally around sign

Stop Rte. 53 sign is held by County Board members Roberta "Bobbie" O'Reilly of Long Grove and F.T. "Mike" Graham, left, of Libertyville at March 14 meeting where it was displayed in connection with discussion on proposed thoroughfare. At right is freelance artist Earl Wegner Jr. of Mundelein, who designed sign.

Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan, Dist. 3 County Board member. She is the area representative on the Northern Illinois Planning Comm. (NIPC), which met earlier this week to vote on the year 2010 transportation plan.

According to Rostron, the entire plan for the Chicago area must be accepted in its entirety. She said there is hope the project may be modified. But it will not be canceled. Four criteria will affect future Rte. 53 plans.

1. Land acquisition will continue. Only last week the state reportedly paid $200,000 more than it cost to build for a home in Mundelein's Cambridge subdivision in the path of the proposed highway.

2. An intergovernmental committee with representatives from communities affected by the highway will address all environmental issues within 18 months.

3. If this does not happen, NIPC will reject Rte. 53 as a viable project.

4. More information will be obtained from both the public and governmental bodies about their Rte. 53 ideas.

Both NIPC and the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) are scheduled to vote almost simultaneously for the year 2010 plan.

"While this body may not want Rte. 53, there are those on the other side of the issue," Rostron told her colleagues at a March 14 County Board meeting.

Anthony Dean, director of the Open Lands Project, a land conservation body, and former director of the Illinois Conservation Dept. from 1973 to 1976, said all of this may be nothing more than talk. "The Illinois Tollway Authority can go out and build this highway tomorrow," he said about not needing an environmental impact statement. Such a statement is needed only where federal funding is involved.

By bonding for the project, Dean explained no other money is needed.

The Illinois Dept. of Transportation said it has no money for any of the highways in the year 2010 plan.

Dean opened his appearance by telling his audience "Rte. 53 will create water, noise and air pollution plus increase the chance for flooding." He said this will happen with building of Rte. 53 through 16 wetlands and affect 14 others. In addition to a refuge for wildlife, these areas help recharge ground water supplies and control flooding. "This highway will impact every aspect of life," Dean continued in addressing the impact on the quality of life and property values.

"Stop the merry-go-round," he pleaded. "Ask if Rte. 53 is really needed. Look at some of the alternatives such as an improved Rte. 12," he added.

He called the Rte. 53 corridor "Magic Marker planning of the 1960s" without regard to the environment. It is proceeding, he said, under planner anesthesia where "they put you to sleep and when you wake up it's done."

"Stop the merry-go-round, Ask if Rte. 53 is really needed. Look at some of the alternatives such as an improved Rte. 12."—Anthony Dean, Open Lands Project Dean decried the supposed NIPC compromises. "The highway will still be here," he said of plans to proceed with construction.

When some board members suggested canceling the county contract with NIPC Rostron immediately rose to the defense. "This project would have been here long ago," she said about hearings it has conducted along with its own evaluation.

Roberta O'Reilly, board member from Long Grove, said opposition to Rte. 53 is growing by the day. "This will not be a silent spring," she said of the volume of protests yet to come.

After almost one-half hour of what started as a five-minute talk by Dean, Rostron appeared to be convinced.

Antioch could implement better 911 with county

GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

ough there are several municipalities like County just getting around to referendums to instigate the 911 emergency call system, Antioch has been 911 since 1977, nine years after the County Sheriff's Dept. implemented

Antioch's present system, the Antioch Dept. dispatches all 911 calls to the sheriff's department, the Antioch and Lake Villa Fire Depts., and the Antioch and Lake Villa Rescue Squads and also the Lake Villa and Lindenhurst Police Depts. for 911 calls received from the Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst area.

A verification of how valuable the 911 system has become in Antioch was realized a couple of weeks ago when the gas company, broke the seals around the phone cables while digging near the United Methodist Church.

"One by one all our phone lines, from the 911 lines to the regular police and fire lines, went out until the seepage caused by the broken seals had all our village lines out," said Miller.

But the emergency system was prepared for this. During the over five hours that the lines were down, a portable dispatch system base was set up in the Round Lake Fire Dept. and Antioch's emergency callers were back in business.

Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller says, "We'd be back in the prehistoric ages without 911. Miller added that in 1988, almost 50,000 calls came into the Antioch Police Dept. He estimates that about 20 percent of these calls were 911 emergency calls.

Antioch Fire Chief Bill Carney is also vociferously in favor of the 911 system, "It has served us well, but as in all systems, there are faults."

Carney talks about going to the new expanded 911 system now in the talking stage at the county level.

Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnell said that this expanded system now in the works at the county, "is a more sophisticated use of computers wherein a caller's address and location will flash on the dispatcher's screen."

He adds that under the new system, calls will be separated and automatically directed to the right department instead of going through the regular dispatch systems.

Grinnell is in hopes that a referendum on this new county system will be on next November's ballot.

"It will take at least two years after that to get the system in place," adds the sheriff.

Over the state line, Kenosha County implemented a system like the new expanded one that Lake County is talking about approximately three months ago.

According to the Kenosha Sheriff's Dept., dispatcher of the system throughout the county, it's working well but there is still trouble getting addresses and locations in the unincorporated areas of the county where neither the resident nor the phone company is aware of the proper address.

With Lake county's unincorporated areas much larger than Kenosha County's, this might prove to be even a bigger problem if and when a countywide system goes into operation.

When Antioch got the 911 system it was paid for by grant and village funds. Municipalities in Lake County that are just getting into the system are talking about having the phone company attach a small surcharge to the phone bills to help pay for the system.

Large voters tie green ribbon for tax hike will be an informational coffee at the school at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, March 21. Those who want information on the referendum, or who just want to show their support are invited to attend. Spring's election will see the Grass Lake rate referendum in its fourth try. Previous referendums have been defeated narrowly.

According to Grass Lake Supt. Anthony Przeklaska, the school district has been operating at a deficit for five years. Even if the referendum passes, that money will be available until the 1990-91 school year, making it six years of operating with a deficit budget.

If passed, the 50 cent tax rate raise, which will cost the owner of a $75,000 home an additional $8.96 per year on his property tax bill, will give the school district an additional $116,139.

"That amount of money should keep the district out of the red for the next five years," says Przeklaska.

Grass Lake has not had a tax rate raise since 1974.

"To show that we are operating close to the bone now, the average school district spends $4,059 per year to educate one pupil, Grass Lake is spending $3,078, the seventh lowest rate in Lake County," says the superintendent.

He adds that the salaries of Grass Lake's teachers have also been kept down and the school is still operating at a deficit, matching Grass Lake teachers' salaries of $20,000 to the state average of $28,000.

Dist. 34 urges 54 cent tax rate hike on April 4

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Back in 1974, the electors of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 voted for a 64 cent educational tax rate increase.

The school district has had no tax rate increase since then and now the administration and the board are asking district voters to go to the polls on Tuesday, April 4, and say yes to the tax rate referendum.

This district, says Supt. Donald Skidmore, largely because of loss of state aid funds, ran at a deficit of $297,000 for this year, and even if the tax rate referendum passes, none of this money will be available until the next school year, which means a deficit of $320,000 then.

Skidmore points out that the school is being "economically" run since it spends 24 percent less than the county average expenditure on educating each school child. Dist. 34 spends $3,070 (sixth lowest in the county) compared to the average expenditure per child of $4,059.

The administration and board of the school district, thinking that the electors do not want any of the school programs cut, are asking for a tax rate increase of 54 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

In the market place, this would mean that the owner of a home valued at $100,000 will see an increase of $121 on his 1990 tax bill. This increase will decrease to $22 inside of the next four years.

The Dist. 34 Citizen's Referendum Committee says that because of the retirement of bond issues over the next four years, the total tax rate will only increase by 40.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in 1990, 30.4 cents in 1991, 27.9 cents in 1992 and 75 cents thereafter.

The proponents of the tax raise urge a yes vote, not only for the sake of the children's education, but add that keeping school standards up will help Antioch remain a more desirable place to live, which keeps property values up.

"Unless the local school system is high quality, desirable development will go elsewhere and we will be left in a downward spiral of undesired development. Ask a realtor about the connection of home prices and the quality of school districts and they will confirm this point," says Don Davis, Antioch development director.

Davis urges a yes vote for the referendum on the basis of the international market in which the United States has been steadily losing stature "largely because our work force is not properly educated."

and Ron Cunningham will be trying to hold on to their seats.

Barnstable has lived in Antioch over 50 years and has been a village trustee for 20 of those years.

He is retired now, but was a foreman for Antioch Lumber and Coal for 31 years. He is married and has two grown daughters. As to any election issues or changes, Barnstable says that he thinks the village should put some of the new building on hold. He adds that he has enjoyed being in charge of the sidewalk committee and would like to continue in that job.

Cunningham, an Antioch native, has been a village trustee for 16 years, following in the footsteps of Murrill (Missouri) Cunningham, his father who was Antioch's mayor for four years, after a 12-year stint as trustee. He would like to see some open space left in the village "but not as much as the county wanted."

White has lived in the Antioch area all his life and in Antioch proper since 1965. He has been on the Antioch Village Board for eight years. He is a technician at Kemper Ins. and is married and has four children.

Challenger Ed Koziarowski has lived in Antioch for 10 years. He is a transportation department manager, and is also married with two children. He's running for the board because "I feel that the village needs a change. It needs to gain a more professional attitude.

He is for planned development while opposing high density growth.

Another challenger, Larry Hanson, former president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, manages B.J.'s Men's Fashions. He waged a moderately successful write-in campaign two years ago for the 1987 village board election. He promises "to take the time needed to develop Antioch in an orderly manner."

The name of Marilyn Shineflug is not a new one to readers of the area's local newspapers. She was one of the major factors in stopping the landfill expansion a few years ago. She has since worked on many village committees, the latest being the Antioch Village Administrator Investigation Commission. As part of her candidacy she has sent out an Antioch Opinion Survey on many current village questions and is now awaiting the answers.

Another office seeker, Dorothy Larson is also a native of Antioch. She has been attending board meetings and feels that "she is as qualified to serve her village as any of the present board members are." She is the office manager for Antioch dentist, Dr. Edward Warner. She is married and has two sons.

Emmons schedules sign-up

Emmons School is making plans for next year's kindergarten class. A child must be five years of age on or before Sept. 1 of this year to be eligible for kindergarten.

Parents and prospective kindergarteners are invited to a kindergarten welcome meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, April 14 in the kindergarten room. Registration papers and health forms will be available at this time.

Pre-kindergarten screening and registration are scheduled for Friday, April 21. Screening will take about one hour and should be scheduled by appointment. A birth certificate must be presented at registration. Call the school office at (312) 395-1105 to make an appointment.

Letters have been sent to parents of identified kindergarteners. If any new parent at Emmons did not receive a letter, contact the school.

Along The Way With Annie Mae

Got a telephone call from the producers of the new network tv show, "Unsolved Mysteries." It seems they are working on what is probably the greatest unsolved mystery in Antioch, "The Woody Kelly Story."

So our little village will be in the nationwide spotlight again. The last time was when the Killer Tomatoes chased a hundred Antiochans down Main St. about a zillion times for the Henri's Salad Dressing commercial.

Speaking of television, have you seen those commercials on Channel 7 featuring the State Bank's own Florence Babusick? It all has to do with her being the first queen of the St. Patrick's Parade in Chicago. (See Page 1 — Weekend.)

Gifts of silver and cards adorned with a lot of 25s were flowing earlier this week when Roger Stahl and his bride of 25 years, the former Joan Barski, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary.

If signs could vote there'd be little doubt who will be mayor on April 5. That little Bobby Wilton really was a busy one plastering his signs all over the village!

Was so sorry to hear of the death of one of the candidates for Antioch Twp. trustee, Ted Gedzilic. His name will still appear on the April 4 ballot since it has already been printed.

It seems weird to see Barnstable's store empty after all these years!

Sure hope someone moves in there soon. We still have too much "black glass" in the commercial areas in Antioch. The Lake St. Plaza is still half empty after a year and the Antioch Plaza still has a way to go before its full-up again.

Outstanding Adam B. Ring, Antioch, has been selected a new member of the Outstanding High School Students of America because of outstanding merit and accomplishment.

BEST FOOT FORWARD FROM THE OFFICE OF DR. PAUL ABLER

TROUBLESONE FOOTWEAR

The design of certain types of footwear can strain your feet. Very thin soles, for example, do not absorb the impact of walking on hard surfaces. This can produce a nerve disorder known as Morton's neuroma. A vague feeling of discomfort in early stages may be the prelude to stabbing pains that extend to the toes or heel. In early stages the condition responds to medications, but advanced stages usually require surgery.

High heels subject the balls of the feet and the toes to excessive pounding. Frequent wearing of high heels can lead to bone or joint deformities.

Sandals should not be worn for long periods. Repeated slapping of the sandal against the rear surface of the foot bottom may cause a thick buildup of callus-like tissue which eventually becomes painful.

Gallegos out of coma, on way to recovery

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(312)395-5380

I will start the column off a sad but, also, happy note. This past December, tragedy found its way into the life of Diane Gallegos. Diane is a former resident of Grass Lake School Dist. and the mother of six young children. She was hospitalized and in a coma for over a month.

The prayers of her family and friends, plus Diane's own strong will to survive, have brought about a miracle. I received a phone call from a friend of hers informing me she is out of her coma and is presently undergoing extensive physical therapy.

With another miracle in mind, Diane will eventually be home with her family to resume her life. You can drop Diane a card or a letter to let her know people are continuing to pull for her. She is at Oak Forest Hospital, 15900 S. Cicero Ave., Oak Forest, IL 60452, Room B-23, Bed 1. AARP

Over 100 members attended the Feb. 28 meeting of AARP, Antioch Chapter 387. Robert Ulrich, chairman of AARP State Legislature Committee, gave members a thorough update on bills now pending in Congress, which are of importance to the welfare of all senior citizens. Also at the February meeting, a silent prayer was offered in memory of Esther Aiani, past president and charter member of the Antioch chapter. Esther died on Feb. 25, and is missed by many, 50-yr. class reunion.

Carl Schurz High School in Chicago is planning a 50-year reunion for the Class of 1939. If you attended Schurz and have not heard about the reunion, call (312)397-0010 for further information. The reunion is scheduled for Friday, May 5, and will be held at the Ramada Inn in Rosemont.

Confirmation

The following young people of the Grass Lake area in Antioch participated in a beautiful confirmation ceremony at St. Peter's Church on Tuesday, March 7. All came dressed in their finest and attended a combination family dinner at a local restaurant after the ceremony. The recipients of the sacrament were Jennifer Brausam, Richard Castillo, Cathleen Chinn, Nikki Garwood, Corry Hansen, Katherine Harris, Aimee Kitto, James Kornfeind, Melissa Olenick, Jessica

Walczak and Joan Werhane. Decorating contest

Little Amber Gore of Antioch recently won the "People's Choice" award for doing a great job in decorating her Valentine box. She entered a decorating contest sponsored by the Lakes Region Historical Society in Antioch. All entries were on display at the museum, and as the people themselves viewed the exhibits they voted for their favorite one. As a result of Amber's entry being chosen by the most people, she received a cash prize and a nice set of markers. Congratulations, Amber.

Concerned Parents

The Concerned Parents Group invite Grass Lake School residents to an informal coffee to be held at 7 p.m. at GLS on Tuesday, questions, ideas or concerns, please plan to attend. In addition, if you would like to show support you can pick up a green ribbon at the school to tie on your mailbox, or call Julie Groh at (312)395-8294, or Marie Brausam at (312)395-1236 concerning the ribbons.

play at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, March 22. This year's play is "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs of the Black Forest". The title may sound familiar, but I understand the actors have given a new twist to the traditional "Snow White". They will be performing a comedy version of this classic story. The junior high actors, in order of appearance, are Missy Olenick, Bill Johnson, Jenny Brausam, Joan Werhane, Jessica Walczak, Jenny Santiemmo, Aimee Kitto, Jason Paulhus, Carrie Hiller, Julene Wyatt, Corry Hansen, Beth Chans, Jenny Mosler, Josh Fleming, Mike Plattner, Corey Misch, Willis O'Donnell, Tony Gardin, Dave LaForge, Joe McNamara, Sabrina Day, Jenny Laube, Jamie Ulm and Nikki Garwood. You will have to attend the play to see what "terrific" parts they play.

Candidates

environmental work, she wants to oppose landfill expansion and the Traco Chemical company. She actively supports a recycling program.

Incumbent Trustee Vern Barnstable concentrated on his continuing program to replace village sidewalks, citing ways to keep costs down. "Call me at any time and I will welcome you. I've said it again and again, if you have a problem, give me a call," he said.

Ed Kozorowski, candidate for village trustee, is very concerned with high density apartment buildings and the pressure they put on the tax base. "We have a problem with taxes—look at the school district. We have to stop the high density, and by that I mean the apartments," he said.

He wants to institute an impact fee from developers to put money into an escrow account for each child entering the school system, and stop post-sale home rezoning. "Growth is coming, but you have to plan for it," he said.

Dorothy Larson, a newcomer to the political arena, is running for trustee on the premise of not being a politician. She is opposed to uncontrolled growth and is active in school activities. "I'm mainly running because I'm concerned, I'm tired of politicians, and I want to see family people holding office; family people who have lived here and who will stay here."

Larry Hanson, the last trustee candidate to speak, feels the people of Antioch need to be better informed, and would seek to create more political awareness. "I want to be the person speaking for you," he said. "Youth and experience are an unbeatable combination." He especially wants to hear the community voice in open space planning.

Incumbent Twp. Supv. Jim Fields spoke about his accomplishments in office, including the board's funds, distributing commodities to low income families, and installing a PACE scheduling board. He also expressed concern over the loss of tax dollars on park land owned by the state.

Frank Sullivan is running for the same seat because he is "afraid Antioch is in for explosive growth," and he fears for the small town atmosphere that people move here for. He wants to address traffic, open space, flooding problems, and response to threats from outside the district by interacting with state and federal officials.

The school referendum that will be on the ballot April 4 received as much attention as the candidates. Dist. 34 School Board Pres. Ed Haley gave the audience solid facts and figures on why the increase in the Education Tax Fund is necessary. Faced with a projected deficit of $5 million dollars, the board examined cutting programs before deciding to put the issue to vote.

Expert craftsman

Stan Kushida, owner of S.K. Custom Golf Clubs in Third Lake, dimples the shaft of a club to achieve a better bond

Kushida makes, refinishes golf clubs

by KIM BOLTON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Twelve years ago, Stan Kushida wanted his own set of custom golf clubs, but to his dismay, the tool maker apprentice found them to be out of his price range.

Kushida, who is now the owner of S.K. Custom Golf Clubs in Third Lake, decided to drop the idea until a fellow employee encouraged him to make his own clubs and gave him a parts catalogue to order from. Kushida bought the necessary pieces to make a 2-wood and applied his tool making skills to the club.

"The first one ended up looking more like a shillelagh than a golf club," Kushida said.

Kushida tried it a second time and ended up selling the wood with only enough profit to finance half of his third club. At this point he was behind about $20, but was gaining interest in the trade which had become a "passion" for him.

Kushida was very unhappy with his job. He was with Baxter six years and, in that time, was promoted four times and still went from earning $2.60 an hour less than his wife, a part-time registered nurse, to $5.10 an hour less than her.

"Sensing something was direly wrong, I decided to go into business for myself," Kushida said.

In the meantime, Kushida had been studying the art and making custom clubs as a hobby. He was selling them to his friends and associates and says he knew he was getting good at it because of the compliments he was receiving.

"My philosophy is you're not very good unless somebody else says it. And, other people were telling me I was very good," Kushida said.

Although he had been reading everything about golf he could get his hands on for six years, Kushida knew that he needed to learn more technical information not found in magazines before he could open his own shop. He went to classes at two schools, The Golf Smith's School in Austin, Texas and The Golf Works Fitting School in Newark, Ohio.

"The reason I went to school is so I can speak eye to eye with a PGA pro," Kushida said.

Making the decision to open his own business wasn't easy for Kushida. He didn't believe in starting on bank loans. So, he had to use up all of his savings and

"A person will spend $200 to $500 on clubs off the rack and find that they can't really hit the ball properly," Kushida said. He added that the golfer would then sell the clubs for less than half of what he or she paid (golf clubs depreciate faster than cars) and go through the process all over again.

With custom fitted clubs, Kushida says, the highly experienced as well as the inexperienced golfer can stop worrying about whether his or her equipment is proper and can concentrate on the game. The imperfections in the swing can be corrected in a custom fitted club and the golfer can save a bundle of money since Kushida's clubs are very reasonably priced and don't need replacement very often.

During a fitting session, Kushida studies the golfer's swing to determine whether the golfer's equipment needs to be replaced or adjusted, or whether the golfer simply needs lessons. He says that golfers with the same set of clubs for a number of years may find that a change in strength, stature, etc. has affected the swing.

Kushida knows it is important for him to keep studying the intricacies of the game of golf and says it is important for any craftsman to continually increase their knowledge.

"Be a student of your craft. Learn about it as much as you can so you can be more professional," Kushida says.

Kushida jokes that his talent in golf isn't enough to allow him to make a living as a PGA pro, but says that he has a love for golf and a talent and a love for custom making and refinishing clubs.

"I just concentrate on what I do best," Kushida said.

S.K. Custom Golf Clubs is located a half mile north of Brae Loch Country Club, in the Wright Way Shopping Center on Rte. 45 in Third Lake. The number is (312) 223-1644.

pension fund, and ask his wife to work full time. He had also inherited a small amount of money which he used to open S.K. Custom Golf Clubs.

Now Kushida owns his entire business including all of his inventory. His custom fitting and repair shop is expanding to include a retail golf shop and Kushida is also in the process of patenting two machines which he invented for the custom club making process.

A lover of golf since the age of 18, Kushida says it is important for golfers to have the proper fit in their clubs. He says that a high percentage of his customers are people who have gone into a sporting goods store and taken their chances in purchasing a set of clubs, not knowing whether or not they'll be the right ones.

Hawthorn enhances charm and upgrades tenant mix

A major renovation designed to keep pace with the changing face of retailing while perpetuating its early village town center atmosphere is underway at Hawthorn Center, the enclosed mall in Vernon Hills.

The 1.4 million-square-foot regional shopping center, owned and operated by September, 1973, at the northwest corner of Town Line Rd. (Illinois 60) and Milwaukee Ave. (Illinois 21).

The two-level mall was completed at a cost of approximately $45 million as the first phase of New Century Town, a 600-acre planned community in Vernon Hills, south of Libertyville. Anchor tenants are Marshall Field's, with 227,000 square feet on three levels; Sears Roebuck and Co., with 229,000 square feet on two levels; and Lord & Taylor, with 110,000 square feet on two levels. An additional 160 shops and restaurants radiate from a central court.

Key facets of the renovation project, which will cost an estimated $9 million, include a new skylight system, new ceilings and floors, a new lighting system, and such architectural innovations as free-standing columns and overhead friezes at all courts.

In addition, it is expected that most merchants will modify their stores to complement changes in the mall. In fact, a number have already done so.

"All in all, we are aiming to enhance the charm and convenience of this complex by making Hawthorn Center even more pleasant and convenient for shoppers," said Helen DeWitt, senior vice president of JMB Properties Urban Co.

Development manager Victor Pildes explained that "we are creating a totally new look for Hawthorn Center. We are preserving the exterior of the building. We are not expanding it, but are designing a new center within. The size of the interior spaces will remain as is, but the feeling will be very different."

Pildes says that barricades will be erected so as to minimize disruption or inconvenience to both shoppers and tenants. In addition, much of the work, which is scheduled to be completed by mid-October, will be done between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m., when stores are closed.

Matthew Roberts, Hawthorn Center

manager, pointed out that, in addition to physical improvements, "We also are upgrading the tenant mix to provide an upscale center that is more compatible with the evolution of high-quality housing in surging Lake County. Without expanding, we are in the process of creating a merchandising look and mix better suited to this increasingly affluent and sophisticated market."

A touch of class

Renovation of the central court of Hawthorn Center will include the addition of free-standing columns and a frieze below a new 38-foot-square pyramid skylight with four surrounding triangular skylights. New seating areas, marble planters and a granite fountain in the central court are included in the $9-million renovation program that owner/operator JMB Properties Urban Co. is undertaking to modernize center while preserving its village town center atmosphere.

DCCA offers interest free improvement loan

The Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) offers an interest-free loan program "For Profit" business that undergo energy conservation projects. To qualify, companies must show how the projects will save energy.

Typical projects include replacing heating or air conditioning systems, installing insulations, replacing single-pane windows or installing energy management systems. Businesses that replace existing equipment with new, more energy efficient equipment for use in their operations may also qualify.

To begin, a company must complete a simple, two page application and then take the application to an Illinois lending institution which must approve a loan to fund the project. The lender then submits the application to DCCA, which may prepay 100 percent of the loan interest costs, up to $20,000 directly to the lender.

The prepaid interest is based on the term of the loan or the first five years of the loan, whichever is less. The approval process takes three to four weeks.

Contact DCCA's Small Business Hotline at 1(800)252-2923 to obtain an application or further information on the program.

LCHA helps to serve a variety of housing needs

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

In 1980, the average selling price of a Lake County home was $60,000. Eight years later, the average sales price is $180,000, according to the Lake County Housing Authority.

While the upscale developments which cater to the wealthy executives look good on the blueprints there are side affects.

"We are trying to move into a new direction to help low and moderate income people," LCHA Exec. Dir. Alon Jeffrey said.

"It's a law of economics," LCHA associate director Rob Peters said.

Jeffrey said no firm plans have yet to be put in place regarding those displaced by the marketplace.

"It's an unserved group today," he added.

The housing authority itself has been helping Lake County residents since 1976 and Jeffrey has been its executive director for two and one-half years. He earlier served as deputy director.

The LCHA offers several programs, from home rehabilitation to emergency repair.

"The purpose of the rehabilitation program is to bring the homes back up to code," Peters said.

Times are changing at the authority, established in 1946. The most visible change the new headquarters building located off Rte. 45 in Gages Lake. The LCHA moved from Mundelein last year.

"It is a lot more comfortable and a lot more accessible. Almost every bus can get you to the College of Lake County," Jeffrey said.

Chicago, with 125 units, Beachhaven Towers in Round Lake Beach has 199 units.

Also in the LCHA's domain are some 135 single-family homes and 550 rental properties.

Jeffrey said the LCHA emphasizes on placing its homes integrated with the rest of the community. A casual drive down the road should not give one a sense of a "public housing" home.

"We have more people employed (living in LCHA units) than not employed," he said.

More firms now offer financial planning

by TERRANCE R. GAERTNER

Successful companies have one thing in common—quality executives who get the job done and who have demonstrated loyalty to their company. The success of most companies has been due, in large part, to the commitment of its key executives.

In order to attract and, more importantly, retain quality executives, corporations utilize a wide variety of meaningful executive perks. These perks are designed to keep the executives fully productive and satisfied. This, in turn, ensures that they will be less inclined to be lured away. They help to develop the feeling of a company that cares for its people.

It's ironic, but because of the intense pressures of today's business world, even sophisticated executives are not taking the time required to do sophisticated financial planning. They often find that keeping their company on top means they do not have the time it takes to keep up with the various disciplines of personal financial planning.

These include not keeping current on the ever-changing tax laws and their effect on your investment strategies and your estate plan, on the numerous new investment products in the market today, the effect of economic changes, etc.

The benefits of personal financial planning include:

- Developing strategies to reduce taxes, enhancing portfolio performance, asset allocation analysis, planning for college costs, retirement planning, effective risk management, estate planning, etc.
- Improved comprehension, appreciation and use of the corporate benefits package.

company is interested in professional financial planning, not an insurance salesman turned loose on their executives.

There is also the matter of professional confidentiality of information. The executives need to know that the information they share with the financial planner will not be available to the sponsoring corporation or anyone outside the financial planning organization unless they authorize release of the information. However, with the right financial planning organization in place, both the executive and the sponsoring company stand to benefit.

The bottom line is this—companies are recognizing that if they expect 100 percent of their executive's energy directed toward making their company successful, then they need to consider offering benefits such as professional financial planning.

This way to wealth

Company sponsored and paid-for personal financial planning services have become a very popular and greatly appreciated executive benefit. In fact, in 1988 this perk became the third most popular executive benefit offered in the United States, surpassed only by number one, company paid-for medical exams, and secondly, company paid-for club memberships.

• Minimum time commitment for the executive.

• Coordination of the work of other professionals such as lawyers, accountants and brokers.

• Leaves the executive with the peace of mind knowing that his/her personal financial affairs have been professionally planned and are being monitored.

The financial planning organization engaged by the corporation can also conduct educational seminars in the area of personal finance or corporate benefits for any group of employees that the company deems appropriate.

The company needs to feel comfortable with the financial planners who will be working with their executives. The

"I LOVE LUCI."

Six months ago Katie McKenna and her family moved to Lake County. They needed a new family doctor, so Katie called Luci at Condell's Doctors Office Connection, a physician referral service.

Unlike other referral services, D.O.C. goes far beyond using a computerized system to match a patient's special medical needs with a doctor. Luci also takes the time to match intangibles (such as a patient's personality and temperament) with one of our many talented and experienced specialists. And if it's urgent, we will schedule a doctor's appointment while you are on the line. It's this kind of personal attention that makes Luci and D.O.C. so special.

Just ask Katie. And call Luci at DOC-2900, ext. 5610.

You'll love our healthy attitude.

Primer for the election

With the April 4 elections heading rapidly for a showdown, nerves are getting jangled and tempers are flaring. That's to be expected. The sound and fury of the campaign often is drowning out reason and thought. That's to be expected, too. But this is the way we elect our leaders, both for the village and township, and the state capitol and Washington.

Out of the mélée of campaign rhetoric and posturing, voters are obliged to participate in a selection process—a sorting out, if you will. To avoid getting trapped into a personality contest, voters need to be aware of what candidates offer of substance, issues like finance and taxation, water and sewer service, planning and zoning. The topics may be complicated and dull, but these things will be what matters today, tomorrow and in the years to come, not to mention impacting on your pocketbook.

Look for substance. One of the most interesting ideas to come out of the 1989 municipal campaign so far is the call for development of a coherent, planned county-village strategy on land development. Suggested by Grayslake Trustee Marvin Smith, a candidate for mayor, the idea involves the appointment by the Lake County Municipal League of a delegation of three mayors working with county officials to formulate an answer to knotty questions like development, job creation, affordable housing, property condemnation and open space preservation.

In addition to the candidate selection process, campaigns are an opportunity to debate issues, bring forth ideas, create community interest and foster community spirit. In various degrees, we see all this happening in the towns and village served by Lakeland Newspapers. Campaigns are necessary. They ought to be exciting and productive. This is no time to bury yourself in the tube.

Value of wetlands

Now that the President has signed into law, as part of the water resources authorization, a bill funding a wetland research and demonstration project along the DesPlaines River in Wadsworth, the wetlands project at Wadsworth has become the nation's premiere freshwater wetlands laboratory.

The Wadsworth project not only reclaims former wetlands, but utilizes sophisticated instrumentation to learn how wetlands function to mitigate floods, control water pollution and provide wildlife habitat.

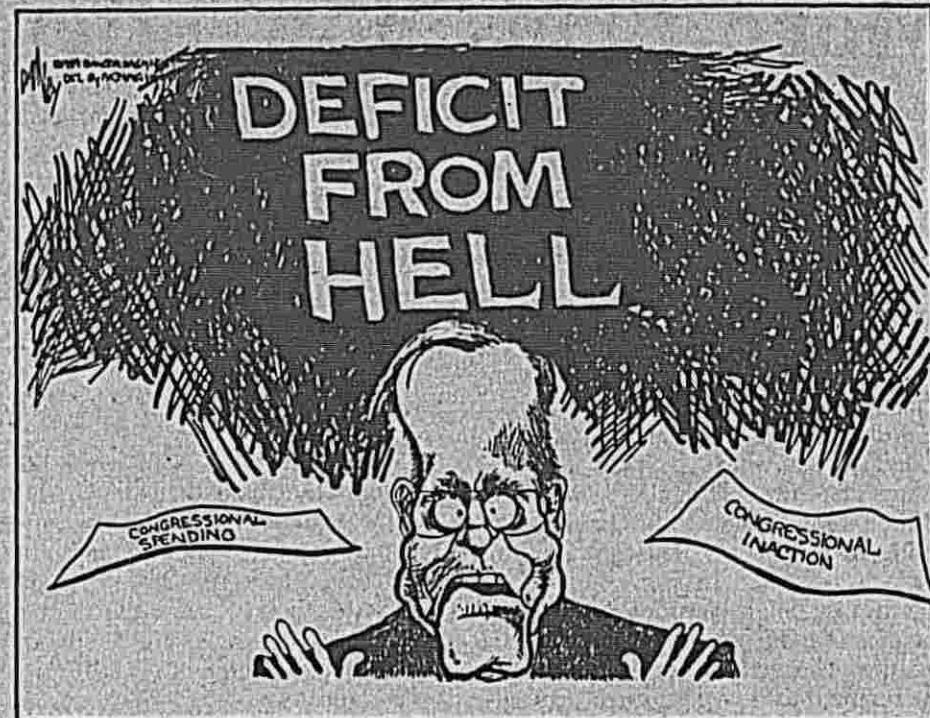

U.S. Sen. Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.), who co-sponsored the bill with Sen. Paul Simon (D-Ill.), is commending the National Wetlands Policy Forum's conclusion that the Congress, the Army Corps of Engineers and other federal agencies for pursuing a goal of no new net loss to our nation's wetlands. Sen. Dixon correctly emphasizes that it makes economic sense to pursue the Wetland's Forum's long-term goal of recreating some of the more than 100 million acres of lost American wetlands.

Wetlands restoration is the single most cost effective expenditure the government and private sector can make to solve a myriad of public problems. Wetlands function naturally to control flooding, reduce soil erosion, breed sportfish, gamebirds and other wildlife, and purify water in lakes, rivers and the groundwater.

On the surface, a bill requiring Illinois employers to provide health insurance to all employees has appeal, but on closer examination the measure could be ruinous to a lot of businesses, especially the small entrepreneurial firms like ones making up a good part of the local business district.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce estimates that mandated health insurance could cost businesses between $500 and $600 million the first year alone. The business group has organized to fight the bill with a coalition, Business Opposed to Mandated Benefits (BOMB), which underscores the ticking time bomb of health care costs for business.

Considering that a great many persons already receive health coverage where they work, the mandated measure amounts to tanglefooting and imposition of an unfair burden on businesses that can least afford new costs of doing business. BOMB should unleash a salvo on the proposal. The sooner, the better.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks for 'no' vote

Editor:

The Lake County Board's vote opposing the extension of Rte. 53 is a vote for a healthier future. Thank you for voting against air pollution and smog generated by heavy traffic through residential areas. Thank you for voting against well pollution by salt and oil from highway runoff. Thank you for voting against crop contamination from high ozone levels which reduce yields up to 30 percent. And thank you for voting against downstream flooding caused by building highways in valuable flood plain and wetland areas.

As this century draws to a close, we have learned from Los Angeles that the quality of life is not measured by the number of highways, which are always followed by more development. We have learned that it is determined by simpler things—clean air, pure water and healthy food.

Bill Schwartz, Chairman

'Crush' the refuse problem

Editor:

Twenty years ago, people started to realize the economic need for large scale recycling. It's taken too many years, in my opinion, to design a system of collection which can accomplish this while meeting the desires of people who don't want to invest the extra personal effort to get the job done.

I think there is something we can do in our daily lives which might make a significant dent in how much space our garbage needs for "final storage." While I grant you that garbage trucks—through compacting—squeeze a lot of space-taking air out of our garbage bags, I can't help but wonder if removing as much air as possible from our garbage before we toss it out might make the garbage truck compactor more efficient and effective.

It seems to me that one of the simplest habits we can adopt to further reach this goal is to crush our gallon milk containers—then put the cap back on so they will tend to stay crushed.

What I'm saying is: Let's be a dedicated model community that takes the time to change our habits by separating and crushing our garbage so we can use our renewable resources (aluminum, glass, paper) and our non-renewable resources (land) more wisely.

New art form: racing canines for

by BILL SCHROEDER

Dealing with urban sprawl, gridlock, impact fees, more strip centers, and all the other advantages of advancing suburbia is only part of the picture. How would you like to contend with a dog track to desile the countryside?

That's the not-so-pretty prospect for residents of the picturesque Lake Geneva-Delavan area of Walworth County who are hopping mad about plans of an Illinois investor group to add dog racing to the attractions of the famous Lake Lawn Lodge.

Wisconsin politicians, and more than a few citizens, have become enamored with the fun and profits of dog racing. They have created the Wisconsin Racing Board for the responsibility of sorting out proposals for dog tracks. Upwards of a dozen or so licenses are being sought, two of them only a stone's throw from the state line. Prospects of a dog track being erected near Kenosha are quite real. Owners of Anvan Corp., operators of Lake Lawn along with a stable of other properties, think a dog track would be a fine addition to their holdings.

Opponents of Anvan have formed the Committee to Save Geneva Lake. They have launched a letter-writing campaign to the racing board to look elsewhere for at least one of the tracks—anywhere. They feel the track will add nothing culturally, socially and environmentally. Probably so, no more than the Sugar Shack and Clown's Show Lounge, which have been monuments of entertainment and temples of nudity in the Lake Geneva and Delavan area for years.

Irrespective of the seeming double standard being expressed by some of the folks of Waukesha County, we join them in their unkindly regard for dog tracks. I've had a dim view of dog racing ever since a pup on which I had squandered half a month's GI pay during the Korean War decided to heed nature's call midway through the race rather than continue chasing the fake rabbit.

Over the years, Wisconsin has refined—to an art—the task of relieving out-of-state visitors in search of fun of their hard-earned cash. We suspect that the dog track fanciers in the Badger state look upon the bow-wow sprints as just another way of fleecing the rubes from Illinois. No, there isn't much thought to social, cultural or environmental ramifications.

SEA POWER—Cmdr. Bill Hughes is a specially trained naval officer who will discuss the relative strength of U.S. naval forces and the Russian Navy. If you are interested in this sort of thing, a talk like Hughes presents is fascinating.

For starters the Soviet Navy, counting manpower and vessels, is three times the U.S.'s. But Hughes, executive officer of the Service School Command at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, quickly dispels parity questions with facts about American superiority in technology, training and personnel. While Russian officers are tough and capable, Soviet sailors all are conscripts. The all-volunteer U.S. Navy is better trained, more committed and better paid. Another big difference between the naval forces of the two superpowers—every ship captain in the U.S. Navy has the authority to implement U.S. foreign policy.

It was good to hear from Hughes that carriers are designed for a service life of 50 to 60 years. The Navy doesn't squander tax dollars. Here's another point to ponder: We've got battleships prowling the seas again because of their tremendous firepower, especially in shore bombardments.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—A landmark birthday was made more memorable than ever when Karen and Mike propelled Pop into the world of modern gadgetry with a phone answering device. Now I can't wait to get home to find out if I have any messages. I can't imagine what I've been missing all these years.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Almost everyone I've talked to thinks their local election is the hottest one going. Admittedly, there are some real barn burners.

In Avon Twp. incumbent Sup. Norman Geary has a big challenge on his hands. Same is true in Grayslake where Trustee Marvin Smith and "Progress and Tradition" candidate Melinda Wilton want the honor of succeeding Mayor Edwin Schroeder.

Fox Lake has a race for someone to follow in the footsteps of William Dam, who wants to be a doctor more than mayor. The three-way race is between Trustee Margaret Paull, Walter Kubala and Frank Meier.

Wauconda isn't exactly quiet, either. Two Jims—Eschenbauch and Keagle—want the honor of taking over the reigns of mayor from Kenneth McGill.

In Antioch incumbent Ray Toft is being challenged by Bob Wilton.

In Lake Zurich its John Schweda vs. Trustee Milton Faurot vs. Jim Kay for the job held by long-time Mayor Henry Paulus. The township race is also a political pot-pourri with four candidates—incumbent Sup. Robert Grever, County Board member Bruce Hansen, Burnell Donovan and Robert Perigo. Both the village and township races have been filled with charges, counter charges and attempts to get candidates thrown off the ballot.

Sorry folks, that 26 acres at Rtes. 45 and 120 ready to be annexed to Grayslake, is still county property.

The property was mentioned in connection with an item about how political intrigue and intertwined interests sometimes overshadow other considerations.

Owner Victor J. Cacciatore is seeking annexation for a shopping center. The village Zoning Board has recommended approval.

Formal acceptance of the property is still a ways off. Stay tuned.

Two Thompsons in Midwest politics are governors Big Jim of Illinois and Tommy of Wisconsin. They are not related, but friendly rivals.

Jim has a newer car than Tommy, though. It is a Mitsubishi Eclipse sport coupe, the first to roll off the new auto plant in Normal by Mitsubishi Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. The keys were presented to the state through Thompson last month at the Chicago Auto Show.

The car is estimated to have cost Illinois more than $80 million. That is the amount spent by the state to lure the plant expected to employ 3,000 people. Big Jim calls himself a "good salesman."

"Tell my little brother, Tommy, to call me to find out how it's done," Big Jim said at last month's car presentation.

widen two sections of the Illinois Tollway and build six new transit projects.

Why is NIPC to approve this plan?

According to CATS' computer studies, if all these projects were completed by 2010, —the average travel time of households to selected points within the Chicago Central Business Dist. would be reduced by less than one minute.

—total time spent traveling would decrease by less than 3 percent.

—daily fuel consumption on the six county highway network would decrease by only 1 percent.

Are such meager results worth spending more than two billion? Neither state nor federal money is available to construct any of these projects. As a matter of fact Illinois does not have sufficient funds to adequately maintain existing roads within the six county area.

In addition, the Lake County Board opposes the extension of Rte. 53 through Lake county because of adverse environmental effects. The Village of Long Grove has submitted an alternate proposal for improving traffic in Lake County by utilizing existing rights of way which would protect valuable wetlands.

Let's restore sanity to our long range planning process. NIPC should vote down the 2010 plan and insist that CATS develop affordable alternatives that will produce significant improvement to our transportation systems.

Correction

The meaning of a sentence in a letter written by David A. Raney on gun control was distorted when the word percent inadvertently was inserted following the figure "40." The sentence should have read: "A recent study supporting this belief concluded that even if 90 percent of American handguns vanished, there would still be 40 left for every handgun criminal." The error is regretted. We apologize for any inconveniences resulting.

Forest Preserve plan lists acquisition criteria, goals

by JOE WINTER
Lakeland Newspapers

The acquisition plan of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. does not recommend specific land parcels for acquisition, but does reveal that 46,000 acres of land will be needed to meet the plan's objectives.

The second phase of the plan has been presented to the Forest Preserve Board at a committee of the whole meeting.

Project Manager David Dahlquist said that although specific parcels are shown on maps in the plan, consideration of these as recommendations for acquisition, "would not serve the goals of the district." The pieces of information contained in the plan should be used only as "tools" in making future decisions, he said.

Dahlquist described the second phase, which contains four goals, and designates portions of land and specific amounts of land which would fulfill these goals.

The goals are acquiring land to protect natural resources and greenways, create recreation trail corridors similar to the Des Plaines River Trail System, preserve a few large tracts of open space, and provide recreation areas. These would be met by:

-- Preserving an adequate section of the area's natural landscapes, plant communities and wildlife habitats (about 15,000 acres);

-- Creating an interconnected network of trail corridors which would also connect with major population centers (about 10,000 acres, or 150 miles of land);

-- Preserving large tracts of unfragmented land (about 1,000 acres divided into two or three sites); and

-- Providing a variety of recreational opportunities for residents and visitors (18,000 acres, or 30 acres for every 1,000 residents).

Among the considerations listed in the plan, which is to guide future decisions and from which the 46,000-acre figure was derived, are as such:

-- Of the county's 300,800 acres, 172,000 acres, or 57 percent, are undeveloped;

-- Total population is 485,000 and is expected to increase to 600,000 by 2005;

-- Residential, commercial and industrial development will continue at a rapid pace;

-- Residents have expressed a need to protect natural resources;

-- Current zoning ordinances do not provide a source of protection to natural resources;

-- By state law, the district is limited to acquiring a maximum of 55,000 acres;

-- Large open space areas are being lost to urban development and roads;

-- Concern is growing over the loss of the county's country atmosphere; and

-- Adequate buffering for natural resources has not been provided with prior acquisitions.

Nab $100,000 in cocaine,

Enforcement Group) the police found seven-and-one-half ounces of high grade, uncut cocaine at that address.

The addressee, Anthony DeVito, 22, was arrested and charged with two Class X felonies, possession of a controlled substance and intent to deliver a controlled substance.

The street value of the confiscated drugs is approximately $100,000.

At press time, DeVito was in the Lake County jail being held under $100,000 bond.

WEEKEND/LEISURE

and FOCUS ON FEATURES

Check it out!by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment EditorOn Stage

Now in progress at the College of Lake County Theatre is a new production of "Lion in Winter." This is the play that is based on the lives of England's King Henry II and his queen, Eleanor and their three sons.

On stage at the Touchstone Theatre in Lake Forest until April 2 is the new production "Real Estate," a story of mother and daughter love.

For those whose interests lean towards jolly olde England, "The Rover," a play about 17th Century England under Cromwell, is at the Goodman Theatre, Chicago, until April 1.

Be there!

Guided tours of the Art Inst. and Terra Museum are part of "Introduction to American Painting," a new class offered by the College of Lake County at the Southlake Educational Center in Highland Park, starting on March 23.

An exhibition of oil and acrylic paintings by local artist Sharon Ebert will be on display in the community room at the Woodstock Opera House through the month of March.

The Easter Bunny will hide more than 10,000 eggs at 27th and Eschol Sts., in Zion, for children to hunt for on Saturday, March 25.

Speaking of Easter in a "BIG" way. The world's largest Easter egg is on display again this year at Lamb's Farm in Libertyville.

If you can get downtown to the loop, what better way to spend Friday than at the St. Patrick's Parade in Chicago. The parade, probably just behind New York's and Dublin's in importance, kicks-off at 12:30 p.m.

Music

The Pheasant Run Resort in St. Charles is hosting a St. Patrick's 50's and 60's Bop Till You Drop weekend featuring Dr. Bop and the Headliners, who will bring non-stop music and humor to the Governor's Hall on Friday, March 17, for one show.

A US 99 St. Pat's party, featuring music by Virgil Kane, will be packin' them in at the Sundance Saloon in Mundelein this weekend.

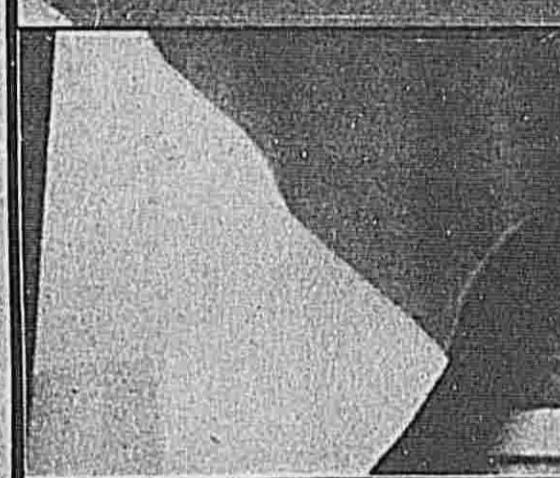

A concert of Irish fiddle and dance music, featuring Liz and Kevin Carroll, Johnny McGreevy and Pat Cloonan, is scheduled at 8 p.m., on Saturday, March 18, at Libertyville High School.

St. Pat's Partying

For last minute celebrating of the Wearin' o' the Green, the Pier Club in Fox Lake is having the entire Irish sheebang, corned beef and cabbage, Irish Stew, green beer, etc., on Friday.

How about the Friday night Door County fish boil at Fitzgerald's in Twin Lakes?

If there's no time, nor money, and very little inclination for celebrating this Friday, the least you can do is stop at McDonald's and ingest one of their Shamrock shakes as one person's salute to the Emerald Isle.

1956 St. Pat's queen

Florence Gallagher was first queen of Chicago's St. Patrick's Day Parade in 1956. She dressed as Irish colleen for United Nations function later (in big picture). Insert, Florence Babusek, nee Gallagher, 1989, looks at memorabilia of her reigning days in Chicago.

1st St. Pat's queen recalls parade Goes from beauty queen to bank exec

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

It was March of 1956. Florence Gallagher was 23 years old and in the middle of a six-month nationwide tour for All State Ins. promoting travel safety.

This tour had been part of her prize for being a runner up in the 1955 Miss America Contest.

At 23 she was older than most beauty queens. She had been 21 when she was named Miss Chicago, a prelude to her trip to Atlantic City.

Now Mayor Richard Daley and the committee in charge of the first Chicago St. Patrick's Day Parade to march down State St. had asked her to be queen of that parade.

It had been an exciting and mind-boggling year for this pretty secretary, and there was still more to come.

The whirlwind had all started when she found herself waiting for a girlfriend who was taking the Patricia Stevens modeling course.

Representatives from the modeling agency had spotted her as the one they wanted for the Miss Chicago contest which they were sponsoring and the rest is Gallagher family history.

The fact that she not only was the current Miss Chicago, doing her city proud in the outcome of the Miss America Contest, but that she was the perfect Irish colleen to reign over the big new downtown St. Pat's Parade was the very reason she was chosen, said Dan Lydon, who has been handling the publicity for the parade ever since that first one.

Riding in the authentic Irish cart, waving at the thousands of people that lined the loop thoroughfare was a memorable event for Florence, and the famous Chicagoans she met at the traditional Irish Fellowship Dinner that followed at the Conrad Hilton made it all more exciting.

Since that first year, the St. Patrick's Queen has had to win a contest to gain her crown and Florence, now Florence Babusek of Twin Lakes, Wis., has judged the contest three times, ridden in the parade with other former queens and dined with the likes of John Madigan, Cardinal Stritch and Irv Kupcinet at the dinner following. She finds it the best way she knows to celebrate her heritage.

Last week, Florence, who has since raised six children, made a tv commercial for Channel 7 touting the parade.

She isn't going to the parade this year because her job as assistant vice president in charge of marketing at the State Bank of Antioch will keep her supervising the bank's home improvement fair.

And although she now only uses her lovely singing voice for local benefit appearances, she intends to be humming an Irish tune as she watches a tape of the parade and celebrates March 17 as only an Irishman can.

Lakeland Newspapers' cruise visits Grand Cayman

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

Columbus visited the Cayman Islands on May 10, 1503. On June 13 the Lakeland Newspapers' cruise ship Riviera will deposit her passengers on the dock at Hog Sty Bay in George Town, Cayman's seat of government.

Cruisers will have most of the day to explore Grand Cayman, largest of the three islands in the British Crown Colony. However you decide to spend your time, you'll find the Queen's English crisply spoken when you hire a driver, order a lunch or simply ask directions.

Curving irresistibly northward from the edge of town, the sugar-white Seven Mile Beach is obviously deserving of its inclusion on the list of "Best Beaches of the Caribbean." Every kind of beach activity can be found here—including simply basking in the sun.

If you've had any scuba or snorkeling experience, you probably already know that the sunlit Cayman waters contain some of the most beautiful coral reefs, ancient shipwrecks and colorful tropical fish anywhere in the world.

If you're not a diver, you may want to sign up before you even leave the harbor for a ride on the "Atlantis," a 28-passenger submarine that takes you in air-conditioned comfort to the depths of 150 feet. The hour-long view of marine life on the famous Cayman Wall will be something you'll always remember.

When Columbus landed in these islands, he called them "Las Tortugas" (the turtles) because of the multitude of turtles in the surrounding waters. Today, the most popular land-based attraction on the island is the Cayman Turtle Farm, where a habitat has been created to simulate the turtles' natural environment with eggs gathered from around the Caribbean. The farm, at the north end of Seven Mile Beach, is included on most island bus tours.

If you're interested in a little duty-free, sales tax-free shopping, George Town has the greatest variety of shops. Cameras, watches, china, as well as resort clothes, are among available items. Cayman dollar value is a bit higher than American (U.S. $1 = C.I. $80), but there are still bargains to be found. American money is accepted everywhere.

Lakeland cruisers are advised to go to Hell while they're on Grand Cayman. At the tip of the island is an unusual and dramatic area covered by jagged, blackened rock formations. It looks like the charred remains of a terrible fire, and was christened "Hell" in the 1930s by a British commissioner. Tourists make it a point to use the post office to send postcards to friends with the postmark clearly stamped "Hell."

Juggler to appear

Bob Kann, juggler, storyteller and tumbler, will present a children's program at 2 p.m., Sunday, March 19, at the Libertyville High School Studio Theatre at 708 W. Park Avenue in Libertyville.

Kann presents a hilarious, unpredictable, and fast paced show for all ages. The performance includes stories woven together around the theme "reading can be fun and exciting." Popular children's literature is dramatized through juggling.

Program admission is $3 for adults, $2 for children ages three through 12, and free for children under three years of age.

How to save money calling home from overseas

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Many first time travelers have been shocked to find an "outrageous" surcharge for long distance calls on their hotel bill here in the U.S. Well, unless you have phoned home from a hotel overseas, you don't know how outrageous a surcharge can be!

In many countries in Europe, a surcharge of 200 to 300 percent of the call is not unusual. Considering that a call home is an expensive proposition to start with, tripling it may cause you to have to skip a few meals. The answer is simple, don't call from your room. But what are your alternatives?

Pay phones are one choice. They won't look like the phone on the corner back home, but you will find them in most of Europe. Learning how to use them may also be a challenge, but that's all part of the fun of overseas travel! There's usually a set of instructions on the phone, and if you're lucky it will be in English.

Aside from pay phones, you can go to one of the phone company offices to call the folks back in Lake Villa. Just look for the symbol "TT" in most of Europe. In Switzerland and France, look for "PTT". You just walk in, give the clerk the number you wish to call and you will be directed to a special phone. When you finish your call, go back to the counter and pay your bill with no surcharge.

Post offices in many countries offer similar services. You may also find special phone centers at railroad stations or airports.

AT&T has been installing special phones at airports and cruise docks both overseas and in the Caribbean. You will be put directly in touch with an English speaking operator. You will also be billed at the prevailing rate in the U.S., which is usually less than the local rate. I have used these phones at the airport in Jamaica, the cruise dock in Nassau, and the airport in Munich, Germany.

If you still must call from your room, make a quick call to the overseas party and have them call back.

Harbingers of spring will be followed by outdoor re-entry

We are nearing St. Patrick's Day. The traditional "wearing of the green" is a harbinger of spring's coming soon, followed by re-entry into the outdoors.

Snow skiers are dichards, and Upper Michigan's good coverage has been popular this year. Big Powderhorn Mountain, near Ironwood, hosts a weekend spring carnival beginning March 17. Called "Springtime in Hawaii", it offers special rates on lodgings and skiing.

Attendees participate in races, contests and games for the family, zany island dress, rubber snow-snake hunts, swimsuit ski races and hula hoop and frisbee contests on skis, which features Hawaiian dancing movements. Last fling details are available by calling 1-906-932-4838.

Signs of spring in Illinois is conservation's search and recording of state visiting and nesting birds. Some 200 species are on record, and their habits will be recorded in the Atlas of Breeding Birds. Soon to be published, it will be the result of five years of volunteer work, ending next year.

This study was made possible by voluntary, non-game contributions to conservation through the Item II check-off, when Illinois income tax refunds are indicated. Support it when

Railroad Club to hold spring open house

The Lake County Model Railroad Club presents its 17th annual spring open house from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, March 18 and 19. Admission is free at 107 S. Main St., Wauconda, one and one half blocks north of Rte. 176 and Main St.

The club was founded in January 1972 and has been in continuous operation since. Its open houses have drawn the attending of families and model railroad enthusiasts alike since the first open house that fall. Past open houses have seen visitors not only from Wauconda and neighboring communities, but also from all of Illinois, southern Wisconsin, northern Indiana, and even St. Louis, Mo.

Visitors will see three to five trains operating simultaneously over the club's main line which is over six scale miles long. Also switching and way freight operations will be in operation. Train movement is controlled by the dispatcher using a modified version of the direct traffic control system, used by the Class I railroads.

As always the club members are happy to discuss the techniques used to build the railroad and other models.

Another spring attraction for Illinois travelers is Indiana's Lake Schafer on the Tippicanoe River. This northwest Indiana location, near Monticello, combines with neighboring Lake Freeman. Together, they present 2,800 acres of water, formed by hydro-electric dams.

This popular recreation area now offers all the water oriented amenities and can sleep 25,000. Among two million annual area visitors, 40 percent of their cars come from Illinois. Information is available from Indiana Beach by calling 1-219-583-4141, or by writing 306 Indiana Beach Dr., Lake Schafer, Monticello, IN 47960.

MONTROSE

FLOOR PLAN

207-08 Montrose
By Landmark Designs

Affordable luxury was the challenge in designing the Montrose. Three bedrooms (including a master suite), roomy kitchen, separate utility area, and plenty of work space were minimum requirements.

The Montrose incorporates these features into a moderately priced medium-sized home by space sharing and uncomplicated construction requirements. Kitchen, living room and dining area are combined in a vaulted great room at the back of the house, centered around the wood stove and hearth. This makes for a light, airy space, with views out three sides, and skylights in the ceiling. At the same time, it allows simple box construction, with minimum interior framing costs.

The two larger bedrooms share a main bathroom, while the smaller guest room is served by a full bath at the junction of the T-shaped hall. Sink, pantry, washer and dryer cluster in a utility room conveniently located in between the kitchen and the garage. The garage itself is extended into an open-sided carport. This frees the interior space for use as a workshop, without sacrificing the luxury of parking and unloading out of the weather.

The Montrose avoids the nondescript lines of many other low ranch houses by minor variations in roof and wall lines. The recessed entry forms a covered porch that is further extended by the exterior carport. The protruding large front bedroom window and built-on brick planter are sheltered by a short secondary roof, and the ridge over the rear great room extends above the main roofline to form a central peak.

For a study plan of the Montrose (207-08), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Weekly Tip: It is the beginning of spring, which ushers in the feelings of growth, excitement and rebirth.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) It is a new week, and you may feel burned out. Boredom will quickly pass, excitement will take its place, and the scenario will change.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Someone at work is making a federal case out of nothing. Avoid a ruckus. Let superiors handle the matter. Keep your nose clean.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You can be the life of the party, if you can find one. Your good spirits and upbeat mentality will continue a few more weeks. Be peppy.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) Concentrate on facts and figures this week. You have done a bang up job and deserve rewards and praise. Someone close to you will lend help.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Expect some criticism now. Some of that criticism will be fair and some biased. Try not to respond unless it calls for a correction on your part.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Your ideas may be met with resistance. You may be judged by how you sound, as well as how you look. Rest and avoid physical burnout.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You may find yourself on the appealing end of a foolish argument. Stay independent, but make the first move to share friendship.

Offer Tae Kwon Do

The Lindenhurst Park Dist. is offering lessons in Tae Kwon Do for those six years of age and older from April 24 - June 5.

The class will meet Mondays at Joseph J. Pleviak School in Lake Villa and Thursdays at B.J. Hooper School in Lindenhurst from 7 - 8 p.m.

Sign-ups will be accepted through April 5 at the Lindenhurst Park Dist. office, 2301 E. Sand Lake Rd., Lindenhurst.

Registration for the class is $30 for Lindenhurst residents and $36 for non-residents. For more information, call (312) 356-6011.

Seek soccer players

The Greater Libertyville Soccer Assn. is accepting registration for its spring adult women's instructional soccer program. The spring season will start in April and finish in late May-early June.

The non-competitive program was started in 1985 to develop women soccer coaches and referees by providing actual playing experience. Previous soccer experience is not required but the minimum age for players is 25.

Women who are coaching youth soccer teams who do have soccer playing experience are especially encouraged to register. Regular FIFA soccer rules are followed except free substitution which is allowed at any time.

Registration fee for players is $15 and registration forms are available at the Sportsman or Sports 11. Call Sue Chamberlain at (312) 362-4218 for more information.

Pro wrestling show

Johnsburg High School will be the place to be for pro wrestling fans March 18.

St. John's Church Knights of Columbus will be featuring several matches on the card at JHS. Matches include Kevin Von Erich and JJ Tunk vs. Catcus Jackmans and Gorgeous Gary Young; Brockhouse Brown vs. The Beast; The Beauty vs. Wild Bill Irain; Matt Berry vs. Crusher Davidson and Calypso Jim vs. Buddy Jack Roberts.

Tickets are: ringside, $10; bleacher reserved, $7; under 12, $4. Ticket outlets are Sun Foods, McHenry Savings Bank of McHenry, Richmond and Sunnyside and Fox Lake State Bank.

Loose ball battle

Warren's Mark Ellert has his eyes set on grabbing loose ball against New Trier. Ellert, a senior, was victim of early foul trouble in supersectional game but left contest to standing ovation from Warren fans. New Trier ousted Warren 64-54 to advance to Champaign. - Photo by Steve Young.

Early foul trouble, New Trier's power crush Warren's high hopes

By STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

The gymnasium at Elgin High School was almost empty. Both Warren and New Trier's basketball teams were departing for their buses. There was still some confetti on the floor.

At one end of bleachers, a sign was left abandoned. Held proudly by Warren's cheerleaders for the last two weeks, it had regionals, sectionals and supersectionals checked off. "State" was still left blank.

That's because New Trier ended Warren's dreams with a 64-54 win in a game which showed a muscle inside, strong free-throw shooting and solid defense can outgun a quickness oriented club. The loss, the second straight at supersectional level for Warren, ended the Blue Devils season at 25-6.

"The story of the game was they were too strong for us inside," Warren Coach Darrel Bader said.

Fouls hampered Warren's efforts early. Nick Stianos, Mark Eifert and Cory Statham all picked up first-half foul trouble.

Stianos recovered to score 15 points to lead Warren, but Eifert and Statham were held to eight and six points, respectively. Eifert fouled out and the senior received a bear hug from Bader and a standing ovation from the Warren supporters as the final seconds ticked away.

Warren led for a majority of the first half and trailed only 28-26 at intermission.

But a slow start in the third quarter which featured four missed shots and a turnover to begin the half allowed New Trier to build up an 11 point lead.

"They missed a lot of shots in the first half (New Trier shot just 37 percent from the field) but in the second half they controlled the inside," Bader said.

"We hit our first four shots in the Barrington game but tonight we tightened up a little," New Trier's Sean Dobbins said.

Dobbins, one of the guards Warren was warned about, scored 22 points to lead the winners, with 15 coming in the second half.

Warren was up against the strongest team it had faced in terms of brute strength since a game against St. Charles in Christmas tournament action in DeKalb, Bader said. New Trier dominated the rebounding throughout the game and finished with a 40-25 edge.

There was no greater example of the Trevians' power underneath than a sequence in the fourth quarter. Ahead 48-40, New Trier had four shots at the basket before Matt Wilson, who had 17 points, grabbed the rebound, scored a basket and was fouled. The play gave New Trier a 51-40 lead with 6:37 left.

"Rebounding was our weakness all year," Bader said.

Warren came right back.

New Trier committed the cardinal sin of a team with the lead when it sent Nick Stianos to the free-throw line. He made two free throws, trimming the lead to 52-48 with 5:46 left, forcing New Trier to call timeout.

Dobbins, after another rebound scramble won by his teammates, came up with a clutch three-pointer which gave the Trevians a 55-48 lead with 3:48 to go.

Warren cut the lead to five points twice

Gymnasts dominate early meets

When the Mundelein boys gymnastics team began this season a month ago, 150 points was considered a goal.

"Before we felt 150 was a big deal but now the team is saying 'let's shoot for 155,'" Mundelein Coach Doug Foerch said.

The Mustangs, who are at Naperville North March 18, have looked strong in the early going, finishing first among three teams at their latest weekend meet. Mundelein's 148 points handily outdistanced Glenbrook North's 98.4 points and Elgin Larkin's 82.5.

Top performers for the Mustangs included J.T. Dorsch with a first-place finish in the all-around with an 8.82; Jeff Turnbull second in the all-around with an 8.13; and Rich Picchietti, who won the rings with an 8.8.

Coach Foerch praised all three Mustangs for their showings in the meet.

Glenbrook North could have given Mundelein more of a challenge, but its top gymnast, Bryan Daster, was injured.

Following the meet at Naperville North, Mundelein is off until it hosts Libertyville in its home opener April 4.

- the latest coming on a Qasim Dominguez layup and had chances to cut the lead even more. But two turnovers and a couple of errant three-point shots helped keep Warren's dreams from being answered.

New Trier, who outscored Warren 24-9 from the free-throw line, made six in the final 90 seconds.

"I feel we were well prepared going in," Bader said.

Warren took advantage of poor first-quarter shooting by New Trier to gain a 13-8 lead after eight minutes. Warren fans began to celebrate when Dave Kuerten hit a three-pointer to start the second quarter for a 16-8 lead. A 13-4 New Trier run then gave the Trevians the upper hand.

In the end, it was hard for the Blue Devils, waiting to leave for the bus ride back to Gurnee, to sit in the empty gym and wonder what has to be done to get over the supersectional hump.

"You go out a loser and it's hard for the coaching staff, the fans and the players. We're real proud. A lot of teams would have traded being in the position we were in," Bader said.

And someday, the final checkmark will indeed be made on that poster.

Safety top priority for snowmobilers: Dunne

TERRY RIEDL

For 18 years, Victor Ford in Wauconda has provided its customers with quality snowmobiles, gear and accessories, and service.

Snowmobiles were added to this dealership in 1970. At this time, the MF snowmobiles were featured. In 1973 and 1974, they began selling SKI-DOO and Polaris snowmobiles. Throughout these past years, Victor Ford has sold to satisfied customers who come from many parts of Illinois, these two most popular brands of snowmobiles. Victor Ford also carries a large selection of the latest clothing and accessories.

Both Tony and son Jeff handle snowmobile sales and have several sleds that can be seen in the snowmobile showroom, adjacent to the new car showroom.

For several years now, Tony and Jeff have been involved with snowmobile racing. They sponsor two drivers, Kevin Kennebeck 23, from Wauconda, and John Dunne (main driver) who is 24 years of age and resident in Cary. Dunne explained that Victor Ford has placed third in the AA improved stock at the World Series that was held in Menasha, Wis. In the world series, Dunne drove a 650 polaris snowmobile and out of 600 entries in eight events, he always finished in the top three spots. Dunne was very proud to admit that Victor Ford always come home a winner.

Dunne was asked to what he attributes his winning streak, he said he must always be in good shape physically and this means keeping his weight down. It's very much the same as being a horse jockey. The lighter you are, the faster you go. Dunne loves the speed and excitement of snowmobile racing. He went on to add that the race course is 750 feet long. The snowmobile will be at a speed of over 100 mph (100 feet per second) in a heat. Dunne has never been involved in an accident while racing. He stated that this is due to safety precautions. John takes racing very seriously and stresses safety first. Dunne is not afraid while racing, but he respects the powerful machine. These snowmobiles must constantly be maintained to insure safe riding.

Jeff Victor and John Dunne agree that every snowmobiler, whether they enjoy the sport for racing or recreational purposes, must consider safety first. If one snowmobiles for recreational purposes, one should first contact a local snowmobile club. This club will offer information such as where state certified safety courses are held, and where the marked trails are, etc. Marked trails are very important because they are continually checked and cleared of debris that can be hazardous to the snowmobiler. Each club will mark their own trials.

Children under the age of 16 must be registered and complete the state certified safety course. They will then obtain a permit. Adults must have a drivers license. The snowmobile itself, must be registered and licensed.

Interested in racing, these events are held every Sunday throughout the winter season at Wasz's Resort in Antioch, on Channel Lake. Dunne raced in Antioch on Feb. 26. In B stock he came in first in two heats, second place in open improved, and third place in AA stock. Dunne explained that most everyone can race. One must have a their own snowmobile, and need not be sponsored. Snowtracks for amateurs are also available. Bring your sled to Wasz's Resort and be sure to register before 11 a.m. as racing begins at noon. These events usually last all day. Questions can be answered by contacting Wasz's Resort.

Dunne would like to extend his appreciation to Victor Ford for allowing him the opportunity to race. Dunne said that not everyone gets this chance of a lifetime. He invites everyone to Victor Ford to view the entire line of snowmobiles, and assures everyone that Jeff Victor will offer complete satisfaction to each customer.

Victor Ford is located on Hwy. 12 in Wauconda. It is open seven days a week weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A snowmobile dance was held on March 11 at Al-Kanya's Restaurant in Island Lake.

Strong second quarter paces Sweet Sixteen

The public address announcer at Waukegan East High School tried her best.

She asked Warren Twp. High School basketball players and fans to kindly remove themselves from the middle of the court so the trophy presentation could take place.

But the Blue Devils were busy celebrating a 61-56 sectional title win over Deerfield, their second straight sectional crown in the same gym. And in the middle of it all, there was Coach Darrel Bader, accepting congratulations from perfect strangers and long-time friends alike.

"It's no less exciting the second time around," Bader, wearing one of the nets which were cut from the baskets, said.

Warren's second Sweet Sixteen appearance and one win away from Champaign status may have been a surprise to those who didn't even pick the Blue Devils to win the North Suburban Conference.

Mundelein hopes for early start

The snow may still be on the ground in a week, but some high schools have games scheduled for March 21.

Among the teams scheduled to make a debut that day is Mundelein's softball squad. Mundelein, if Mother Nature is cooperative, will host Palatine.

The Mustangs were undefeated in the North Suburban Conference last year and Coach Jim deRivera likes what he sees at least so far.

The Mustangs have three strong pitchers back from last year's squad, led by

"It gives us an opportunity to keep going and to play one more game. That's the idea of the state tournament. To avoid losing and go to the next step," Bader said.

Afterward, there was plenty of praise to be dished out on the Warren side.

Qasim Dominguez took home the scoring honors with 17 points, Dave Spiller had 13, Cory Statham keyed Warren's rebounding efforts with 13 boards and 15 points.

"We thought we did. Everybody looked at last year and who we lost but we just worked hard," senior Dominguez, said.

Bader also praised Eifert's efforts on defense against Deerfield's top scorer, Tim Hanson.

Hanson, meanwhile, "did a great job on the offensive boards," Bader said.

Senior Mark Sasser came in for Nick Stianos early on when the starter got into early foul trouble.

"I kept waiting to put Nick back in with the fourth foul but while we had the lead there was no need to make the change so I just left it at that," Bader said.

It was Deerfield that made the change at the end - popping in two three-pointers.

Although Warren would enjoy leads of as many as 11 points, the Blue Devils did not begin the game looking like a Sweet Sixteen team.

Hanson scored two of Deerfield's first three field goals to give the underdog Warriors, who had upset Zion-Benton, a 6-0 lead.

Hanson was one of the top scorers throughout Lake County this year and play was stopped in the fourth quarter. He had fouled out. But rather than taunt Deerfield's biggest weapon, Warren players as well as coaches wanted to congratulate him on a fine career.

"We were down 6-0 and they had the ball and I told my assistant Len (Chimino) if they score here, we will have to take a timeout and they turned the ball over and we got a free throw (by Statham). We just got into a flow a little bit. We weren't running our offense very well and they were getting pretty much what they wanted. Once we picked the tempo up, that's when we took over the game," Bader said.

By the mid portion of the second quarter the game, featuring Warren's transition and Deerfield's slowdown style, was beginning to favor Warren's tempo.

Warren's Eifert scored most of his 10 points in the first half. And they were from the 15 to 17 foot range.

"They were dropping down low," Eifert said of why he was open.

Warren, on two Dominguez free throws, held a slim 11-9 lead after one but increased it to 29-18 at halftime.

16 Warren

Deerfield then began to capitalize on Warren errors and nearly erased the lead. Bader called timeout when the Warriors trimmed it to 33-31 with just under four minutes left in the third quarter.

"He told us to under control and play our game," Eifert said.

"I tried to calm them and just did it verbally and told them to calm down and relax. I said they were the one that was in trouble," Bader said.

Warren listened.

Two Deerfield miscues led to a tip-in by Eifert, a driving hoop by Dave Spiller, two Spiller free throws for a 38-31 lead. Two Eifert free throws gave the Blue Devils a 42-35 cushion entering the fourth.

Seniors dominate all-Lakeland basketball teams

By STEVE PETERSON
SPORTS EDITOR

It may be one of the best teams never to play a game.

This summer, a few team members may just happen to spend a hot, sunny afternoon in the same pick-up game, working on their three-point shots or slam-dunk moves.

Or by fate, two may end up at the same college program, each vying for playing time.

But for now, the team will have to settle for a 0-0 record.

"You could win some games with that team," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said of the first Lakeland Newspapers post-season all-area team.

The team is headed by Grayslake's Timm West. West was named Lakeland Newspapers Player-of-the-Year at the team banquet Tuesday (see related story).

A total of 15 players were selected for the first, second and honorable mention lists. One trait the players had in common:

they were, to a greater or lesser degree "marked men" by the opposition.

Joining West on the first team are: Lake Zurich's Scott Krzeminski; Warren's Mark Eifert; Carmel's Chris Mikrut and North Chicago's Elbert Moore.

Just imagine: Mikrut, a three-point threat, dribbling the ball downcourt. He pulls up at the arc. Options: shoot the ball, dump it in to West or Eifert or work the ball around the perimeter to the other hot three-pointer, Moore.

The second team is no slouch, either. Johnsburg's Trevor Hart leads the quintet and is followed by Rick Haines of Round Lake, Cleveland Tyson of Stevenson, Scott Gooch of Antioch and Kip Paul of Grant.

Ready and willing to contribute would be juniors Shawn Harlan of Mundelein and Scott Hall of Round Lake; seniors Tim Hough and Craig Katzenmaier of Grayslake and Matt Pellan of Antioch.

A look at the top nine players:

Mikrut: "He took on a leadership role. He would get others to play at the top of their game as he led by example," Coach Scott Rosberg said. Mikrut finished the season with an 11 points per game average. Rosberg said Mikrut, who also is a top-notch soccer player, had to shoot more his senior year. "We needed more from him in terms of offense. His defense was a constant," Rosberg said of the Lake Zurich resident.

Eifert: He started the year as the one player who returned from last year's Sweet Sixteen team with any kind of playing experience. He doubled his points per game average from six to 12 as the Blue Devils won the North Suburban Conference title and returned to the Sweet Sixteen.

Moore: Averaged 15 points a game for Warhawks, who finished 16-11. "He was one of the best players all around," Coach Joe Wharton said.

Krzeminski: Led the Bears in scoring with 17.3 points per game. Coach Doug Cook said the three-sport athlete worked most on his defensive skills this year.

Hart: Averaged better than 20 points a game for the Skyhawks. Coach Jeff Lewiston said Hart is a prime example of what can happen when players dedicated themselves in the off season.

Haines: All Northwest Suburban Conference selection, Haines was Round Lake's outside shooting specialist, making 66 three-point shots. He averaged 12.3 points a game for the Panthers.

Paul: A 5-11 guard, Paul topped 15 points per game average for the Bulldogs. Grant won the Round Lake regional and Paul was only Grant player to score in double figures against Warren in sectional loss.

Tyson: One of Stevenson's few bright spots in a frustrating campaign.

Gooch: Along with Pellan, led the Sequoits back to double digits in the win column.

Lakeland salutes West as

By STEVE PETERSON
SPORTS EDITOR

It may have been just a junior high basketball team, but for Timm West, it was the start of success.

The Grayslake Junior High Panthers consisted of West, Tim Hough, Craig Katzenmaier and Jim Neumann.

The team won more than 15 games that season and some five years later, then as the Grayslake Rams, the group won a Northwest Suburban Conference title.

"I always used to practice with the older guys," West said.

For his efforts, West was named player-of-the-year by the Northwest Suburban Conference and Lakeland Newspapers. West heads Lakeland's first all-area post-season team and received a plaque at the Rams banquet Tuesday.

"It was kind of tough for him to be motivated but the conference championship was his motivation," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth said.

West had to adjust to a position change from forward to center. West had 18.7 points a game and 6.3 rebounds in his senior year, leading the Rams to a 12-2 NWSC record and 17-9 overall mark.

The Rams have won 23 games in the NWSC in two years and 32 all told.

He also stunned some opposing coaches with an ability to give up the ball.

"I always thought Timm was a good passer," Groth said.

Groth said one of the compliments West received was that to beat the Rams, they had to stop West.

West, along with Lake Zurich's Scott Krzeminski, are two of a vanishing breed among today's high school athletes - three sport players.

player-of-the-year

"Your body gets real worn down. It was nice after basketball to get four days off. You just have to concentrate and set your goals high," West said.

"Basketball is a long season and we go six days a week for four months," Groth said.

While the old sports adage "you're only as good as you're last game" could be applied to the Rams, who were defeated by Round Lake in the regional, Groth said the team won its share of "big games. We beat Marian Central there and Marengo when we had to and Grant to win the title outright. I don't think our players had individual goals. Their goal was to win the conference championship".

West's older brother, Jeff, was on the 1983 squad which won the NWSC title under Coach Dave Workman. Groth said the younger West could have been brought up to the varsity.

West, who scored 989 points for the Rams, is leaning towards attending Knox College in Galesburg next year. He may continue his football career there as well.

PLANTAR WARTS

Warts are caused by a virus infection and are often mistaken as corns and calluses. Warts on the bottom of the foot penetrate deep under the skin like a mushroom, because of pressure in standing. Unlike corns and calluses, the center encapsulated area usually has rust-colored spots that are small blood vessels and nerves that supply the wart. For this reason warts are more painful with side to side pinching. Warts are contagious to susceptible people and are usually found in adolescents. If the planter wart is small and discovered early, prescribed chemical agents often times are all that are needed. For large or resistant warts, we often times use Laser surgery that gives good results with minimal discomfort. This is done on an outpatient basis and the patient loses no time off his feet.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Leaders join reading program

All Emmons Grade School Dist. residents are invited to a story-telling assembly on Monday, March 20 at Emmons School in Antioch. This assembly culminates Read-Aloud activities which have been in progress at Emmons during March.

Dan LeMonnier, a story teller and singer, will entertain the kindergarten through fourth graders at 9 a.m. on March 20, and the fifth through eighth graders at 10 a.m. The title of the performance is "Folksong and Foolery."

For the younger groups of students, LeMonnier will present the stories "How X Got in the Alphabet," and "Why Mosquitos Buzz in People's Ears." The older students will enjoy "Paul Bunyan and the Corn Stalk" and "Duffy and the Devil."

The Library of Congress has declared 1989 as the "Year of the Young Reader" and Emmons has acknowledged the slogan, "Give us books, give us wings!" with special emphasis on reading for pleasure.

The purpose of the Read-Aloud program is to give students a glimpse of how reading will be important to their future, as well as to be able to view adults as readers.

Many people in the community have been invited to Emmons School to read aloud a favorite short passage. Among the people who will be reading aloud to Emmons students are firemen, police officers, political figures, grandparents, and business leaders.

At the present time, the school is still awaiting replies from the President of the United States and Chicago Bear players. Also during the activities younger students are reading to older students and older students are reading to younger students.

Reading aloud to children is worthwhile because it strengthens students' language.

Lake County At A Glance

Best water option

MUNDELEIN—Revised figures show that the village can obtain Lake Michigan water most inexpensively by going in with other members of the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency for a $35 million general obligation bond. Under this action, Mundelein would contribute about $6 million to the bond issue of the water agency, and also about $5.5 million in a bond issue of their own to cover the village's capital costs. The equivalent water rate under this scenario is estimated at $4.036 per 100 cubic feet. If Mundelein would cover the same total bond amount, about $12 million, entirely under their own bond issue, the equivalent water rate is figured at $4.316 per 100 cubic feet.

Parking rules stay

LAKE VILLA—Two hour parking will stay on Cedar Ave. Lake Villa Village Board members approved the two-hour restriction. Mayor Joyce Frayer said the second survey of businesses was validated.

Changes to Rte. 59

FOX LAKE—Engineers from the Illinois Dept. of Transportation met with the village board and interested citizens to discuss the proposed upgrading of Rte. 59. Under the proposal, the Rte. 59

Home Builders Assn. Shafts Geary, Graham

The Home Builders Assn. of Lake County is endorsing Ralph Swank, Jr. and Russell Christian in their respective April 4 election races for township supervisor.

Both endorsers, however, are underdogs in the upcoming vote. Swank is running against incumbent Mike Graham in Libertyville Twp., while Christian is up against incumbent Norman Geary.

"I believe it is fair to say that if Geary and I are both defeated, the open space movement in Lake County is dead."—Mike Graham of Grayslake in Avon Twp. The incumbents are also presently on the Lake County Board, Graham as a Dist. 5 representative and Geary as a Dist. 4 representative as well as being County Board chairman.

A Meet the Candidates forum was held at the association's general membership meeting earlier this week. Those in attendance only had the opportunity to meet Swank and Christian, however, because Graham and Geary were not invited.

Lakeland's COUNTY NEWS

bridge over Rollins Rd. will be widened to accommodate three lanes and the bridge will be raised six feet. Also, a stop light will be placed on Devlin Rd. and left turn lanes off of Rte. 59 will be added.

Edison meeting

SPRING GROVE—Commonwealth Edison, as well as the Spring Grove Village Board, was dismayed at the low turnout at meetings held to discuss the village's attempt to become a municipal electric system. About 20 percent of those invited actually attended.

Donation law

RICHMOND—The Richmond Village Board discussed possible changes to its developer donation law. School Dist. 157 Supt. Ron Erdmann requested that the board pass the ordinance endorsed by the schools, requiring an initial donation of $500 per dwelling unit at the time of platting and a donation of 75 cents per square foot at the time the building permit is issued. The village appointed a committee to study the issue.

Lake cleanup

ISLAND LAKE—As part of its ongoing cleanup project, the Village of Island Lake has been installing a seawall around its "big island." With about 65 percent of the total cleanup project completed, village officials are hoping to finish by June.

New Town Mall plan

LAKE ZURICH—Plans for the bankrupt Town Mall have been revived by developer John Sfire. He proposes a three-story medical arts building in cooperation with Northwest Community Hospital, upwards of 72 adjoining quadplex condominiums for adults age 55 and over and an adult recreation complex with bowling alley and restaurant. Tentative plans call for relocating the police station to the property where the village fire station, library and fire department are now located. Town Mall has been dormant since its financial demise in the early 1970s.

Where's the fire?

HAWTHORN WOODS—Residents from the unincorporated area of Ela Twp. filled the village hall this week for a meeting of the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection Dist. They came to protest suggested purchase of a former Nike site at Quentin and Long Grove Rds. for the first of three substations. They also objected to appointment of two new members of Fire Dist. board—Alfred Christensen and Eric Nielsen. They and two holdover members of board are running with County Board member Bruce Hansen in April township election on Responsible Experienced Party ticket.

4 referendums

ANTIOCH—Three Antioch grade school districts have tax rate raise referendums on the April 4 ballot. Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 is asking for a tax rate raise in the education funds of 54 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Grass Lake Grade School has a referendum for a 50-cent rate raise. This is the fourth time this question has been brought before the voters. Emmons Grade School has two rate raises on the referendum. One asks for $1,600,000 for the school's expansion program. The other is a 49-cent rate raise for the education fund.

Treatment planning

VERNON HILLS—Andrea Moore, Dist. 5 representative from Libertyville, has made comments to the village board asking that planning be done concerning the capacity needed for land treatment facilities. Moore also is the area-wide representative from the Lake County Board to the Water Quality Commission of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPSE). She said she came before the village board at their latest meeting to discuss concerns she has with land treatment and foster intergovernmental cooperation. Moore said that trustees need to determine how many land treatment facilities are desired inside the corporate limits, and what the sizes of these facilities should be.

School hopeful

GAGES LAKE—Woodland Dist. 50 officials are hoping the third time will be the charm. The district is seeking a 95 cent per $100 of assessed valuation tax increase in its education fund in the April 4 general election. The Gages Lake elementary district was rejected by voters in its attempt to raise taxes in November and February. "I think we have a good chance. There are a lot of new people coming in with new ideas," Woodland Board of Education President Constance Hoth said.

Sign OK

GURNEE—Gurnee Plan Commission members have granted a favorable recommendation to a conditional use permit request from McDonalds to raise its sign from 30 to 50 feet. The matter now goes before the Gurnee Village Board.

Absentee voting

LAKE VILLA TWP.—Lake Villa Twp. is offering residents a chance to vote absentee ballots for the April 4 election. Voters may cast their ballots at the township hall from 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. Those not able to vote during those times may contact Lake Villa Twp. Clerk Sue Hanson at (312) 356-2116 to make other arrangements.
